

MANUFACTURED IN THE USA

All Paramount products are manufactured in America and meet the guidelines established under the Buy American Act.

All of our products shown on our website are manufactured in the USA with components manufactured from US suppliers. We specifically request “domestically produced steel only, certification required with every shipment” for all steel ordered for the manufacture of Paramount products. This ensures that Paramount meets the Buy American requirements under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA).

The ARRA also requires manufacture in the United States, but does not include a requirement with regard to the origin of the components used to make the end product. All of Paramount’s components are purchased domestically to promote and support the American economy.

Paramount has been in business since 1947. In 2017, we celebrate 70 years and are proud of supplying quality luminaires to customers around the world. Our factory is located in Crosswell, Michigan and we are a “Made in the USA” company.
